HEARD.

Enthusiasm was the keynote of the mass meeting held last night at Albany city hall in the interest of the Albany Board of Commerce, which is now being organized here by Joseph B. Babb and Edwin L. Quarles, McKeand Service Company experts.

The speakers were enthusiastic; the audience was enthusiastic. There was evident a determination to make Albany grow, and incidentally, to get ready for industrial expansion that is coming with the development of Muscle Shoals.

Edwin L. Quarles was the principal speaker at the meeting, which was presided over by Mayor E. C. Payne, who had been introduced by W. R. Hall, president of the Board of Commerce. Short talks were delivered by W. A. Bibb, Maj. Chas. Bassett, Judge John C. Eyster, Baynard Malone, C. V. Dupont and W. R. Shelton.

Take the Lead.

In his address, which consumed 25 minutes, Mr. Quarles stressed the opportunity that is now in the grasp of the South. In speaking of the South, Mr. Quarles was careful to explain that he did not mean the south politically, nor economically nor sectionally—but geographically. He painted an eloquent word picture of the South's vast resources, which made it the natural leader of the nation; of Alabama's wealth of forest and field and mine, and of Albany's privilege of leading the state and the south and the nation industrially as well as alphabetically if the proper enterprise and co-operation was shown by its citizenship.

Mr. Quarles called attention to the fact that every city lost the larger part of its young men by failure to provide means for their development at home. He especially urged his auditors to take steps to make Albany so attractive that its young man power would not be sent abroad into foreign fields, but should be kept at home.

Explains the Plan.

The speaker also explained the plan on which the board of commerce was to be formed, and stated plainly that it could not be operated successfully without a paid secretary and without sufficient funds. "Spend all you get and get all you can," was his epigrammatic advice as to how to successfully conduct a board of commerce.

The other speakers of the evening pledged their co-operation in making the Board of Commerce a success. Maj. Chas. Bassett declared that as a captain of one of the membership teams he would get membership pledges if "he had to lend them the money." Baynard Malone asserted that he would be ready to do all that he could for the new enterprise, whether called on night or day. Mr. Dupont stated that he could be counted on for all possible assistance. Judge Eyster said that the Board of Commerce was badly needed and that he would give it his unqualified support. Mr. Bibb stressed the need of a commercial organization and declared that he would do everything within his power to make it a success. W. R. Shelton pledged the Daily to further any enterprise to aid in the development of the city.

Mayor Payne Talks.

Mayor Payne, just prior to adjournment, made a short talk in which he again went on record as being willing to do all that he could for advancing the interests of Albany. He declared that he had probably given more time to the city's interests than any other resident, and that he would do more still. In closing, Mr. Payne paid a tribute to W. R. Shelton, of the Daily, and declared that he believed the Daily had done

IMPORTANCE OF PROGRESSIVE
VOTE IN RACE TODAY IS ES-PECIALLY EMPHASIZED.

(International News Service.)

Washington, Nov. 7.—Sixteen million Americans will cast their votes before nightfall today for electors of a president and a vice-president of the United States.

The total popular vote of all candidates four years ago was 15,036,542. With the growth of the nation, the naturalization of aliens resident here in 1912, the spread of women suffrage and the intense interest this year the number of ballots cast is quite certain to reach 16,000,000 and may go much higher.

The citizens will choose 531 members of the electoral college, those ornamental officials who will solemnly meet some time hence and enact into law a result everyone will know by midnight tonight. The number of electoral votes necessary for a choice is 266.

The nation is on tiptoe awaiting the result—not only because the issues have stirred the blood of the people, but also because an unbiased observer concludes from the numerous straw ballots, the consensus of forecasts by leading partisans, the course of the betting odds, the various other indications that the result will be a very close one.

It is easy to find those on either side who will tell you to a dot just how each state will go. But as the detailed predictions of republicans and democrats are distressingly out of harmony, the best one who would rid himself of party feeling can say is that the following states are in doubt and should be watched tonight for an indication of how the final result is going:

Doubtful States.

Indiana, 15 electoral votes; Illinois, 21; New York, 45; Ohio, 24; California, 13; Nebraska, 8; Wyoming, 3; New Jersey, 14; West Virginia, 8; Connecticut, 7; Delaware, 3; Maryland, 8; Kentucky, 13; Missouri, 18; Wisconsin, 13; Michigan, 15; Colorado, 6; New Mexico, 3; Arizona, 3; Washington, 7. Total of electoral votes in doubtful states, 255.

In this table are put all the states called doubtful by either side. Some of those listed are very doubtful, others only moderately so, and a few scarcely at all. It will be noticed that the total of doubtful electoral votes, 255, is more than half of the whole number to be chosen.

In 1912 Wilson had 435 electoral votes, Roosevelt 88, and Taft 8. But Wilson's total popular vote—6,293,019—was 1,311,444 less than Taft and Roosevelt's combined, and 2,450,504 less than that of all other presidential candidates combined. The popular vote four years ago was as follows:

Wilson (democrat).....	6,293,019
Taft (republican).....	3,484,956
Roosevelt (progressive).....	4,119,507
Debs (socialist).....	901,873
Chafin (prohibitionist).....	207,928
Reimer (social labor).....	29,259

The importance today of the progressive vote of four years ago is seen from the following table which gives the plurality of combined Roosevelt and Taft vote of 1912 over the Wilson vote:

State	Plurality.
New York.....	189,974
Pennsylvania.....	325,142
Illinois.....	235,043
Ohio.....	83,241
Massachusetts.....	124,868
Indiana.....	31,384
Michigan.....	216,077
New Jersey.....	55,956
Iowa.....	106,299

DAILY WILL BEGIN TO BULLETIN
ELECTION RESULTS AT 6 O'CLOCK

Promptly at 6 o'clock this evening the special loop that has been cut into the Daily office by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. will be connected with leased trunk wires of the International News Service, and five minutes later the first election bulletin will be flashed on the screen in front of the Daily office. The Morse instruments were installed in the Daily office this morning, and the key will be manned by an expert furnished by the A. T. & T. Co.

The stereopticon, furnished by Manager Cagle of the local playhouses, will be in charge of Tom Ratliffe, Masonic theatre expert, and an unrivalled projection is assured. The bulletins will be flashed until the definite result of the presidential race is known, which will likely be far past midnight, as at the present angle the contest looks close. When "good night" is given, the crowds in front of the Daily office will know the choice of the American electorate for the highest office within their gift.

Edwin L. Quarles, the McKeand Service Company expert, a former newspaper man, told the mass meeting at Albany city hall last night that the Albany-Decatur Daily was the best newspaper published in towns of the size of the Twin Cities that he had ever seen in his wide travels over the United States.

"Mr. Babb and I, both former newspaper men, agreed as we looked over yesterday's issue of the Daily, that it was the best paper that we had ever seen in the United States for towns of this size," said Mr. Quarles. "That front page yesterday would have reflected credit on any metropolitan newspaper published anywhere in the world."

MCCORMICK SEES A GREAT VICTORY

Reports From West Indicate That he Was too
Generous in Giving Hughes 70 Votes, he Says

(International News Service.)

New York, Nov. 7.—With Wall street and the curb market closed today the last minute betting on the election was consigned to the up-town hotels and was light in character. The odds ranged from 10 to 9 on Hughes to even money, some $5,000 bets having been placed at the latter figures at the Waldorf. Reports from every part of the country telling of the heavy vote cast in the early hours puzzled the speculators and most of them declined to make any additional wagers.

(BY JOHN EDWIN NEVIN.)

(International News Service.)

New York, Nov. 7.—The jury is arriving at its verdict. In every state in the union the performances of the Wilson administration today are being passed upon by the supreme tribunal—the people.

On the decision will determine whether there is to be a continuance in power in the nation of the democracy headed by Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, and Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana, or whether republicanism is to replace it in the person of Chas. Evans Hughes as president and Chas. W. Fairbanks as vice president.

The campaign ended and actual voting began today with both sides supremely confident.

At the last moment a wealth of Wilson money drove the betting odds in New York and Chicago down to 9 to 10 with Hughes still the favorite and even money in some instances. Reports received at republican and democratic headquarters emphasized the great interest in the result in every section of the country.

Long Lines of Voters.

Long before the polls opened in the various cities long lines of voters were in waiting. Here in New York City the votes are coming in fast. Similar reports come from the up-state section and the veteran election experts declare that this indicated general straight ballots with very little cutting.

The last word of the national campaign managers as they awaited the closing of the polls was as follows:

William R. Wilcox, republican—"Mr. Hughes will have at least 100 votes to spare in the electoral college."

Vance McCormick, democrat—"Reports from the west indicate that I gave Mr. Hughes too many votes when I allotted him 70 in the electoral college. We are going to carry everyone of the so-called doubtful states. The influx of Wilson money in the closing hours of the campaign gladdened the Wilson followers. They saw in it an effort on the part of the professional betting element to 'hedge' their bets in the light of the latest reports of increasing Wilson sentiment in the west."

Hughes Votes Early.

The republican presidential candidate was one of the early birds at the polls today. By drawing ballot No. 13, the lucky number of President Wilson, his followers declared that he merely emphasized that he was to replace the president in his job. He was in excellent form when he reached the laundry which served as a polling place and smilingly posed for the photographers and exchanged jests with his newspaper bodyguard.

President Wilson was up early at Shadow Lawn and after being motored to Princeton, where he cast his ballot in the old fire house there, he returned and will play golf this afternoon.

Both candidates will receive the returns tonight surrounded only by their own immediate family. Mr. Hughes at the Hotel Astor and Mr. Wilson at Shadow Lawn.

Control of Congress.

Although the presidential contest overshadowed all else, the fact that control of congress also held in the balance today was not lost sight of. The democrats were very confident that they would retain control of the Washington, Nov. 7.—Traps were set in practically all parts of the United States today to catch perpetrators of election frauds. The department of justice announced that its agents have been withdrawn from other chases, including Mexican border investigation, and extra men have been sworn into service to prevent fraudulent voting.

The principal states being watched are New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota and Montana. In these states hundreds of arrests are expected to be made.

CHARGE G. O. P. USES MUCH MONEY IN OHIO.

(International News Service.)

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Charges that huge sums of money have been sent to Cincinnati for use in helping the republican ticket at the polls today, were made in a statement issued from democratic western headquarters here today.

The statement says that one informant states that one St. Louis bank sent $50,000 and another St. Louis bank sent $25,000, all in $1 bills. Banks in other cities, it alleges, sent large sums.

FRAUD CHARGES IN ST. LOUIS ARE MADE.

(International News Service.)

St. Louis, Nov. 7.—The election opened in St. Louis today with charges of wholesale frauds by both republicans and democrats. By 10 o'clock 52 negroes had been placed under arrest. Election commissioners have appealed for help in untangling matters where so many challenges were made that it was impossible to proceed with the balloting.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Bribery, illegal voting, intimidation and attempts at fraud were prevalent at Chicago during the voting today, according to reports made to Hinton G. Clabaugh, head of the local bureau of federal investigation. Confession of bribes from workers for both parties had been obtained from the recipients, he said. Prices paid for votes according to these confessions, range from 50c to $2.

enate. The republicans frankly admitted that the task of getting control away from their opponents was a difficult one and probably would not succeed.

So far as the house was concerned, both sides were claiming that they would win.

MCCORMICK CONFIDENT OF WILSON'S LANDSLIDE.
(International News Service.)
Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 7.—"I am more confident than ever of the re-election of President Wilson, and I am going to stick to the word 'landslide' declared Vance McCormick, chairman of the democratic national committee, this morning as he entered a tailor shop to vote.

"I predicted that the president would receive 364 votes in the electoral college and I feel now that he will get even more. We are going to get states which we had given over to the republicans."

WILSON IS CHEERED AS HE CASTS HIS VOTE.
(International News Service.)

Princeton, Nov. 7.—Surrounded by cheering Princeton students President Wilson cast his ballot in a fire house here today at 9:15 a. m.

The president and Mrs. Wilson, accompanied by secret service men and newspaper men, left Shadow Lawn at 7:30 and motored to Princeton. He told members of his party that he regarded the clear weather "as more welcome luck."

Arriving at Princeton he found firehouse No. 3, his polling place, surrounded by students. They set up a cheer. Republican Election Judge R. H. Rose handed the president ballot No. 50. He was behind the curtain barely a minute.

The students boomed out a "locomotive" yell as the president left the fire house and shouted "speech, speech." He smiled and shook his head. Quite a crowd had gathered and President Wilson was whisked away amid cheers.

WOMEN VOTE HEAVILY AT ILLINOIS POLLS.

WILCOX STILL LOOKS FOR G. O. P. VICTORY.
(International News Service.)

New York, Nov. 7.—The final word of William R. Wilcox, the national republican chairman was a sweeping prediction today of republican victory.

Mr. Wilcox issued this statement: "The fight is won. This is republican weather. It is all over but the shouting. When the votes are counted to night proof will have been given by the American people that they will not allow themselves to be delivered to a self-appointed leader or to be misled by democratic falsehoods and deception."

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 7.—The first town in the United States to send in complete election returns was New Ashford, in Berkshire county. The result was Hughes 16, Wilson 7. The polls opened at 6 a. m. and closed at 10 o'clock.

(International News Service.)
New York, Nov. 7.—When William R. Wilcox, the republican national chairman, was informed of the result in New Ashford, Mass., he said: "This little town's vote is indicative of what the result will be in the entire country. I am profoundly gratified by this early indication."

REV. SHOLL TELLS CHURCH TO VOTE

UNIQUE SERMON IS PREACHED BY PASTOR OF FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Before a large congregation Rev. M. N. Sholl Sunday night preached eloquent sermon at the First Presbyterian church of Decatur, on "How Shall We Vote?" He said in part:

"Remember that in this spiritual election there is no uncertainty about the result. The Tuesday election is close; the political pendulum has swung this way and that; no one seems exactly to know just where the drift is at present. But there is no uncertainty as to the drift in this great spiritual struggle. Don't be deceived. God is not morbid. Everyone may not believe it, but as sure as light is light, the drift in this great battle of life is toward the Cross of Christ, ten commandments, the throne of God. Why not line up on the winning side. Oh, brothers and sister, before it is too late join the Jesus party; fight the good fight of faith; lay hold on eternal life; become an heir in the God and a joint heir with Jesus Christ to an inheritance that is incorruptible, undefiled and that fadeth not away."

As to Platform Parity.

"The platform I am most interested in is the platform of the Jesus party. I am humbly trying by God's grace to give it a life endorsement. Are you? What are the essential planks in the platform of the Jesus party? Briefly let us note them:

"First. The Jesus party stands for purity. We are being constantly told by earnest reformers that both the old parties are corrupt and that the heart has been eaten out of them long ago. Certainly that is not true of the Jesus party—the real followers of the Christ. Jesus himself stands for a purity that is whiter than snow.

The Snow Prayer.

"To belong to the Jesus party means that we will not follow the throne room of our imagination with evil thoughts, that the deifying words shall not pass our lips, that our hands shall be free from all crooked deals, that we will be free from unholy associations, that we will not stain our immortal characters with the slime of the street or the filth of the underworld.

"Mamma," said a little child, "I prayed the snow prayer last night."

"The snow prayer? What is that, my child?" asked the mother.

"Why, mamma, don't you know. 'Now Wash Me and I Shall be Whiter Than Snow.'"

The Jesus follower is no finished saint, but the snow prayer is the reality of his life.

"You remember what Tennyson said of Sir Galahad: 'His strength was as the strength of ten because his heart was pure.' The faith of the new chivalry. It can only be ushered in by true Christian men. The Jesus party alone can bring in the new day. The greatest asset of the Sir Galahads of modern chivalry is the asset of purity.

Altruism, Not Safety, Is First.

"The Jesus party stands for the highest type of altruism. The great political parties of the day may accuse one another of being the servants of special privilege. This is emphatically not true of the Jesus party. It thinks in world-terms and has a generous thought for the life of every man. How little many of us think of humanity. How busy we are feathering our own nests! The Christian party does not serve a group of private interests. It stands for the universal good. There is a stone seat upon the campus of Cornell university bearing the inscription, 'Above All Nations is Humanity.' That is the platform of Jesus Christ and his followers. The purest and most dynamic altruism in the world today is directly traceable to Jesus. It is only the gulf stream of Christian altruism that is to any satisfactory extent warming the otherwise cold and inhospitable shores of humanity. Don't hammer the church and say that it has no ear for the still sad music of humanity. The followers of Jesus do hear its exceeding great and bitter cry, and they are doing the great bulk of the world's good work. Are you voting for Jesus Christ in the great conflict of life. Remember that a vote for Jesus is a vote against all bigotry and selfishness, a vote for the purest and most disinterested altruism.

Christ is a Brave Man.

"The Jesus party stands for moral and spiritual bravery. Neither of the two dominant parties of America flings itself uncompromisingly against all that is wrong. Both parties, if not in one way in another, cringes and favors. They turn the banner when it should be twisted. The democrats humble to Tammany and the republicans do obedience to Wall street.

"There is no irresolution or cowardice among the true followers of the Jesus party. Like their divine Lord, they count not their lives dear unto

LIGHT VOTE BEING POLLED IN GENERAL ELECTION TODAY IN MORGAN COUNTY

USUAL DEMOCRATIC VICTORY IN ALL RACES WAS FORECAST THIS MORNING.

BIG BALLOT USED BY VOTERS

WILL BE FAR IN NIGHT BEFORE EXACT RESULT IN COUNTY IS KNOWN.

At noon today the indications were that a very light vote would be polled at the six voting places in the cities of Albany and Decatur. Advances from outlying precincts of Morgan county were to the effect that a light vote was being polled there also.

However, the usual democratic majorities for the national, state, district, county and city tickets was forecast.

The ticket being voted today contains the names of the nominees of the democratic, republican, prohibition and socialist parties, as well as a space for the voter to vote independently if he chooses. A separate ballot is being used for the six proposed amendments to the state constitution and because of the length of the two ballots it is expected that it will be far in the night before the votes in Morgan county are counted. The party ballot is 13 1/2 inches in length and 11 inches in width. The amendments ballot is 14 inches in length by 5 1/2 inches in width.

55 votes and Hughes 26 in the first counting of ballots here today. The count was in the first precinct of the Third ward here, formerly a republican precinct.

Topeka, Kans., Nov. 7.—Incomplete returns from 16 out of 32 precincts in the city of Topeka today give Hughes 661 and Wilson 511.

HEAVY VOTE POLLED IN NEW JERSEY TODAY

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 7.—Reports from all parts of New Jersey indicated that a heavy vote was being cast in the early hours. Fair weather prevailed.

FRENCH MOVEMENT IN BAPAUME RESISTED.

(International News Service.)
London, Nov. 7.—The encircling movement of the Anglo-French troops in the sector of Bapaume on the Somme front is meeting with heavy obstacles. The heights of Warlencourt which was captured by the Germans yesterday were violently shelled all night by British guns. On other parts of the front there were severe artillery duels. It is reported in the official statement of the war office.

De Witt Will Compile City Directory of Albany and Decatur

Mounce De Witt, representing the Southern Directory Company, of Louisville, Ky., is now in the Twin Cities for the purpose of compiling a city directory, which will list the name and address of all residents of both Albany and Decatur. Mr. De Witt will begin the work at once, provided that he finds that he will receive the co-operation of the local business public.

"I do not ask for a guarantee of any kind," Mr. De Witt stated this morning. "All that I ask is the co-operation of the business men, and if assured of this I shall begin work at once. The directories of the two towns will appear under one cover, making it more comprehensive than if separate."

The last local directory was compiled in 1913 and owing to the constantly shifting population is now practically obsolete.

It was the first time that the McKeand live wires had ever used this method of getting before the public, and Mr. Quarles declared that he was very much pleased with the results obtained. He is of the opinion that the big community-building organization in future will use more printer's ink than it has in the past in wakening up the public to the value of a live commercial organization to a municipality.

Girls With Beautiful Faces or Graceful Figures

American girls have a world-wide reputation for beauty, but, at the same time, there are girls in our cities who possess neither beauty of face nor form, because in these instances they suffer from nervousness, the result of disorders of the womanly organism. At regular intervals they suffer so much that their strength leaves them; they are so prostrated that it takes days for them to recover their strength. Of course, such periodic distress has its bad effect on the nervous system. The withered and drawn faces, the dark circles and crow's feet about the eyes, the straight figure without those curves which lend so much to feminine beauty are the unmistakable signs of womanly disorders.

When a girl becomes a woman, when a woman becomes a mother, when a woman passes through the changes of middle life, are the three periods of life when health and strength are most needed to withstand the pain and distress often caused by severe organic disturbances.

At these critical times women are best fortified by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, an old remedy of proved worth that keeps the entire female system perfectly regulated and in excellent condition.

Mothers, if your daughters are weak, lack ambition, are troubled with headaches, lassitude and are pale and sickly, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is just what they need to surely bring the bloom of health to their cheeks and make them strong and healthy.

If you are a sufferer, if you daughter, mother, sister need help, get Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in liquid or tablet form. Then address Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive confidential advice from a staff of specialists, that's free; also 136-page book on woman's diseases sent free.

AMUSEMENTS

"THE LILAC DOMINO"

Andreas Dippel, grand opera impresario and former co-director of the Metropolitan, New York and general manager of the Chicago and Philadelphia Grand Opera Companies, will present his latest spectacular, high class opera, "The Lilac Domino," at the Masonic Wednesday, Nov. 8. "The Lilac Domino" organization was formed by Mr. Dippel for the adequate presentation in this country of genuine light opera and immediately met with the most hearty approval of the music lovers and grand opera patrons of New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Washington in which cities the opera was given for over one year. This is not only a musical, but a genuine operatic and social event and should be looked forward to with eager pleasure by local music lovers, more especially as in this event we are to have the same organization as it appeared last season.

Mr. Dippel, unlike other managers, does not believe in substitutes, and notwithstanding the remarkable success of "The Lilac Domino" insists that only one company shall present it under his management. The eminently successful light operatic production "The Lilac Domino," produced by Andreas Dippel, is to be seen in this city at the Masonic tomorrow night. The reserved seat sale is now on. Mail orders will be filled in the order of their receipt. Reservations must be called for by noon Wednesday.

Poor luck in baking will ruin the best disposition. With Cole's Hot Blast Range your luck is always splendid.

RECORD VOTE BROUGHT OUT IN OLD OHIO.

(International News Service.)
Cleveland, Nov. 7.—Registration in the state for today's election exceeds that of any previous year, and ideal weather conditions promise to bring out a record vote.

INDIANA IS DOUBTFUL UNTIL POLLS CLOSE.

Indianapolis, Nov. 7.—With two candidates for vice president and one for president from this state and the election of two United States senators in the balance political leaders predicted the vote of 650,000 in 1912 would be exceeded in Indiana today. Indiana will be a doubtful state until the votes are counted.

WOMAN HAS OWN CONGRESS PLATFORM.

Butte, Montana, Nov. 7.—Miss Jeanette Rankin, running for congress at large in Montana today on the regular republican ticket, has a platform slightly different from the usual G. O. P. principles. Here it is:
National woman suffrage.
Child welfare.
Tariff revision for the protection of the worker.
Prohibition (for state and nation).
Greater publicity in congressional committee.

With the exception of Miss Josephine Fernald of San Francisco, democrat, Miss Rankin is the only woman whose name will be voted on for congress tomorrow. In the primaries Miss Rankin, facing seven other contenders, polled a plurality of 7,000 more votes than the nearest other contestant.

It was due to Miss Rankin's efforts, more than those of any other person that Montana granted suffrage to women. She dances well, is an excellent horseman, makes her own clothes—which are called "stunning"—and is said once to have built a board sidewalk.

Miss Rankin is small and slight, with hair her enemies call red and her friends call light brown. She is still in her early thirties.

more than any one enterprise in boosting the city and promoting its expansion.

Large Attendance.

The meeting was well attended. The council chamber was filled, a number stood in the back of the hall and a score stood outside. At the close of the meeting Prof. J. M. Collier, superintendent of Decatur schools, was introduced and spoke in advocacy of the educational amendment. This meeting, however, was not in connection with the previous one.

No Socks in German Army.
The German soldier does not wear socks, but fussappen. These are strips of cloth soaked in tallow and wound about the feet. They are supposed to be preferable to socks in that they wear more evenly, are more easily cleaned and, when properly worn, are not so likely to wrinkle and cause blisters.

Military authorities disagree, however, as to the relative value of socks and tallow-soaked strips. Either covering, though, is considered preferable to the custom of wearing no socks, which has prevailed in the French, Spanish and Italian armies.—Outlook.
